Brief Bio: Peter Jonas Chitamu

Peter is a Senior Lecturer and Researcher in the School of Electrical and Information Engineering at the University of the Witwatersrand. He holds BSc from the University of Dar es Salaam in Tanzania, MSc(Telematics) from the University of Surrey and Ph.D. from the University of Southampton.

He is registered as a Professional Engineer with the Engineering Council of South Africa since 1998 and is a member of the IEEE Communications Society.

His research interest is in Wireless Network technologies and their application in the African environments working with five other academics/researchers and about 15 postgraduate students at the Centre for Telecommunications Access and Services (CeTAS).

http://www.ee.wits.ac.za/comms/

***

April 2005